A photograph of a restaurant interior. In the foreground, a waiter in a grey suit jacket is leaning over a table, looking at a menu. The table is set with a large roasted turkey as the centerpiece, surrounded by various side dishes including corn, broccoli, and potatoes. In the background, another waiter is visible, and a woman is looking at her phone. The scene is lit with warm, ambient lighting, and a decorative lamp with a colorful patterned shade is visible above the table.
